False, Foolish Yarns
How To Be Famous
Faster Air Mail
Standard Oil Abroad

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

A SENATOR who should know better circulates a stupid, utterly untrue story to the effect that Herbert Hoover took a drink with Clarence Darrow of Chicago. The story was as silly false as the other campaign lie that described Governor Smith as intoxicated speaking from his box at a county fair in Syracuse with two friends helping him up.

Fifty newspaper reporters knew that the story about Governor Smith was a lie, and beside, he did not speak from a box.

EVERYBODY that has known Herbert Hoover or dined at his house these past years knows that he is a total abstainer, and, unlike many other public officials, allows no alcohol on his table or in his house.

MR. HOOVER wisely announces his determination not to answer foolish slur and slander.

A wise candidate tells voters what he purposes to DO if elected and lets other candidates tell their own stories in their own way.

THERE are many ways of making the world talk about you.

One philosopher jumped into the crater of Vesuvius.

A slave, that his name might be remembered burned the temple of Diana at Ephesus.

Dargel wore waistcoats of scarlet cut bold, and curled his hair in beau-ideal black ringlets in the House of Commons and Miss Sophia Curtiss gave a dinner party for her favorite horse named Surprise.

The horse was brought to the table, many well known stage folk attended, but late while the horse ate. That happened 120 years ago but now that Miss Curtiss dies aged 95 every newspaper will mention it.

THANK heaven the president and Postmaster General New the postoffice at least encourages flying to a certain.

In the postoffice flying is treated as a separate important enterprise, not tacked on to postoffice trains and trucks as a minor auxiliary.

NOT satisfied with excellent air mail service, the postoffice plans to increase mail plane speed 25 miles an hour making the trip between the Atlantic and the Pacific in 24 hours, only one day.

That is progress.

THE Standard Oil of New Jersey and the great German dye trust are said to have formed an alliance a sort of mutual aid combination.

Germans eclipse all nations in manufacture of dyes. Standard Oil has raw material unlimited money, organizing and distributing power, and a magnificent staff of chemists.

Evidently Walter C. Teagle, president of Standard Oil of New Jersey, on a recent trip to Europe was not a young grouse ALL the time.

THE American Railway Association delegates representing owners of all trolley lines inspect pinus in Cleveland for a Robot or mechanical street car conductor.

Westinghouse and General Electric are creating, in manufacture of automatic machinery, will produce substitutes for all work purely mechanical. The human race is not destined to go through the centuries with a few existing, freedom the others march and a machine.

NO mechanical conductor will ever help women off and on the car or answer all the foolish questions.

But a 'Robot' conductor could call out names of streets, collect fares and NEVER GO ON STRIKE!

However flesh and blood conductors need not worry yet about their jobs.

SOVIET Russia denounces what it calls 'capitalistic governments' and especially 'capitalistic imperialism.'

But human nature is human nature and with the entire good Russia in China is a little imperialism on its own account. It informs that world that the Russian flag has been raised on Cape Gil by Professor Samoilovitch who went hunting for lost explorers in the arctic.

EVOLUTIONS may change the Commons of government introducing Congress theories. They don't change human nature or its deep-seated passion which is TO RULE.

GERMANY is testing a great dirigible the 'Count Zeppelin' soon to cross the ocean and begin passenger service between America and Europe.

The airship will come here driven by a new fuel called blue gas and is to be propelled by a mixture of natural and artificial gas.

GERMANY renders a service to this country in sending the Count Zeppelin. It will visit American cities, and every uncle will remind American that there are governments not too lazy or too indifferent to engage in promotion, initiation and not relying on private initiative.

German Nationalists want a referendum to end the republic—bring back the Hohenzollern.

If the Germans were as Scotch as the English they are not—they would have everything that the Hohenzollerns would bring them, even the German Emperor who ran away at the end of the war in which nearly every family lost somebody killed or wounded or both.

COUNTY TAX RATES NEAR COMPLETION

Schedule for Next Year To Be Ready Soon, Auditor Says

Tax rates for 1929 in the various taxing districts in the county will be completed within a few days it was stated today by County Auditor Earl F. Thomas. The auditor is now working on the rates.

At present he is adding a approximately 500 new buildings. Call finds in the county to the tax duplicate. When this is completed and their valuation fixed, the tax rate can be set.

The rates to be completed soon may not be the rate Marion and Agosta tax payers will be assessed in 1929, the auditor points out. Voters in these districts will vote on bond issues in November. In case these issues carried levies will go on the tax duplicate for next year. Due to the bond issues the tax rates for Marion and Agosta can not be definitely set until after the November election the auditor points out.

Increase in the rates in case the bond issues pass will be slight, according to Thomas. The Marion school bond issue will raise the rate only 95 hundredths of a mill or 95 cents on each $1,000 of taxable property. The Agosta bond issue which is to provide money for buying fire-fighting equipment and repairing public buildings will make only a slight increase in the tax rate it is said.

Total of $2,100 Expected To Be Raised Next Week, Clothing Sent

A check for $1,000 Marion county's first contribution to the $5,000,000 fund for the aid of victims of the hurricane in Florida and the West Indies was sent to national headquarters of the Red Cross in Washington today. A large packing case of clothing was also started on its way to the stricken area.

The $1,000 already paid is not quite half of the quota assigned to Marion county by the national Red Cross. The quota is $2,100, leaving $1,100 still to be collected.

With many workers still not heard from and many of the churches not to make collections the quota will be filled some time next week, officials of the Marion county Red Cross chapter expect. They are leading every effort to make this possible.

Four more contributions of clothing have been received. Contributions of clothing should be taken to the rooms provided by the Marion Building Service & Loan Co. on the second floor of its building on East Center st. and not to the Red Cross office. Clothing will be called for if desired.

$2,000 FIRE CAUSED BY CHIMNEY SPARKS

Roof of Pearl st. Home Almost Totally Destroyed by Flames

Sparks from the chimney ignited the roof of the home of Fred E. Eaton, 245 Pearl st., resulting in damage estimated at $2,000 at 5:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Central station company made the run.

The roof of the frame dwelling was almost totally destroyed by the fire which burned for almost an hour. Water thrown onto the roof seeped through into the rooms below and damaged the ceilings and walls. The building is insured.

Those fire was the type against which Fire Chief Harland issued a warning on Monday. Sparks resulting from burning rubbish and from the burning of soot in closed chimneys are especially dangerous because of the large number of shingle roofs here, the chief states. If care is taken to clean the chimney and avoid allowing rubbish fires to burn too swiftly, fires of this nature will be rare, he says.

MARION COUNTY COURT UPHELD IN FOUR CASES

Waddell Ladies' Home Wins Long-Fought Suit Over $5,000 Pledge

RULINGS REPORTED

Three Other Actions Included in Decisions of Court of Appeals

Common pleas court of Marion county has been sustained by the district court of appeals in four appealed cases, reports on which were received by the court house today.

The Waddell Ladies Home was given a verdict of $7,000 in the case brought against the estate of Oliver Peters and Wilson Peters. In returning the verdict the court sustained the action of a jury in the common pleas court.

The case has twice been fought through both the common pleas and appellate courts. In the first trial in common pleas court Judge Sebert returned a verdict in favor of the home. The verdict was reversed by the court of appeals on the ground that the Home failed to show that Oliver and Wilson Peters had received any benefit from the $7,000 pledged by them to the Home.

Pledged Years Ago

The pledge was made about 25 years ago five years before the death of Wilson Peters. His estate was held open until the death of Oliver Peters in 1924. Following her death suit was brought against the estate by the Home when executors refused to pay the $7,000.

After the second trial of the case by the court of appeals the case was again taken into the common pleas court before a jury. Another verdict was returned for the Home. The action was sustained by the higher court in the report returned today.

The estate of Oliver Peters was represented by Fred D. Carhart of the law firm of Carhart & Warner and associate attorney Ray E. Thompson represented the estate of Wilson Peters as its executor. The Waddell Ladies Home was represented by Attorney John H. Clark of the law firm of Clark & Arter.

Clish Loses in Appeal

The amended petition was dismissed and a motion for a new trial overruled in the case appealed by Frank G. Clish against the Buckeye Supply Co. The case was the outgrowth of a temporary injunction granted Clish in common pleas court to restrain the supply company from removing their equipment from the California oil field. When the hearing was held before Judge Sroufe it was stated that Clish had failed to make payments for compiling a record of World war veterans living in Marion were announced at the regular meeting of Bird-McClintock Post No. 102, of the American Legion, held in the Dugout on South High st. last night.

The census will list names and addresses of all World war veterans and also the branch of the service in which they served. John Roth of Bird-McClintock post, will route the city and provide maps for the Boy Scouts.

The Legion Day Co., it was announced, has agreed to accept by giving all World war veterans moving into Marion and registering, on gas company patrons on appeal only to fill out the census cards.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the census includes J. W. Llewellyn, D. J. McDonald and L. D. Jones.

Election of delegates to the national Legion convention to be held in San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 8 to 10, also to be given out that night, meeting. The delegates are J. F. Kinnear, La Vela Gulp, Clarence Howe and Page Rue.

Mr. Ring is now in Texas and will meet the other local delegates at San Antonio. The three will have headquarters Monday, making the trip by motor. Meeting of third st. post are arranging a conduct for the delegates to be staged in the courthouse Thursday morning.

Drainage System Ruined

"When the winds of the Sept. 16 hurricane had subsided, there was left a picture of destruction, desolation and death. Bodies of the dead were strewn out over the fields and highways and millions of dollars of property had been swept away, homes and farms ruined, dikes washed away, the Everglades drainage district system was demoralized, fertile productive lands were inundated, and thousands were homeless.

"Our first work was to establish refugee camps where the destitute, homeless might be fed, sheltered and clothed and to gather up the dead. Suitable camps were established and in each affected community, crews were organized to pick up the dead and bury them. The Red Cross handled 769 bodies and its medical committee has ascertained that approximately 1,000 others were cremated or buried where found, or are known dead and not yet located. How many destitute families have been cared for, it is as yet impossible to say.

12,200 Refugees

"Today the situation in these fertile, productive farms are ravished, the owners are without funds, their homes are demolished, the machinery wrecked. They are no way to start over again. In the district, 5,851 homes are wrecked. Over the district there are 12,200 refugees. In the communities workmen and merchants alike are in want.

"Unless funds can be supplied to re-establish citizens to that point where they can again become self-sustaining, they will for an indefinite time remain dependent refugees.

"But in the aggregate, it will require $12,000,000 a careful and complete survey has shown, to do the work. Florida can not raise that. We appeal to our national headquarters, therefore for those funds which can only be raised through an appeal to the citizens of the United States and to aid us in properly administering them to alleviate the suffering, hunger and death which will continue if we fail to meet the crisis."

In common pleas court the injunction was dissolved and Ulch appealed the case to the district court. J. W. Jacoby represented Ulch.

The appellate court failed to find any error in the case appealed by the Lennon Furniture Co. against Harry Quigley. Quigley had been awarded a judgment of $150 against the furniture company in common pleas court for breach of contract. The case was dismissed by the appellate court at the cost of the furniture company. Quigley was represented by Louis E. Myers. John B. Clark represented the furniture company.

The petition of the A. G. Schaff Co. against the Marion Grain & Supply Co., was dismissed at cost of the plaintiff when the court failed to find any error in the proceedings of the lower court. The case involving a carload of hay, was appealed from M. O. Stoll's, justice of the peace court to the common pleas court in 1926. The county court sustained the justice's verdict for the grain and supply company.

Holding Bag

The county so far is left holding the bag for the amount of Smith's alleged shortage. The bonding company, although it has assured officials that the county will be protected, has made no move to pay. Whether the company is looking for Smith in an attempt to get a settlement is not known here.

Members of the board of county commissioners said today that they were ready to appoint Smith's successor immediately after the office has been declared vacant by the common pleas court. The court, however, can not act until the petitions drawn by the prosecutor have been filed with signatures of six per cent of the qualified voters of the county.

NURSE BEGINS WORK IN COUNTY SCHOOLS

Reorganization of Little Health Builders Now Under Way

Reorganization of the Little Health Builders' league has been one of the first activities of Mrs. Edna M Travis, county health nurse, in her work in the Marion county schools. Mrs Travis started reorganization of the league shortly after the opening of school for the present term.

In her work in the league Mrs. Travis teaches eighth grade girls proper methods of caring for infants. Work of the league has been started at Latlue and Martel and will be started at Kirkpatrick soon. Other schools will follow.

Besides this work Mrs. Travis has started a check on the weights of grade school children in the county. More than 550 pupils have been weighed in Latlue, Morrell, Martel, and the Clark school in Marion township. A number have been found to be underweight in the schools visited, Mrs. Travis stated today. In cases of this kind advice is given the pupil or the parent on methods to bring the weight up to normal. Another check is to be made on weights later, according to the nurse.

—School Days—

Reporter Gets in Personal Touch with Modern Education by Enrolling as One Day Pupil in Marion Class-Rooms

Editor's Note — Today the Star writer's tour of local schools reaches the fifth grade and he finds the youngsters are now upon the more serious phase of their educational career

BY FRANCES JENNINGS

No one will say that lessons should be cool teacher assigned fifth grade pupils with whom she is dealing and the methods which bring best result

One of Miss Christian's methods which appealed especially interesting to her pupils after yesterday was the system by which she grades her

Tuesdays Wednesdays and Thursdays are given over to strenuous study and what Miss Christian terms all written work Recitations on Friday takes the form of written work weekly tests which honestly and fairly tell Miss Christian how much of the weeks lesson has really been absorbed On Mondays the papers are returned graded and the day is spent in detailed study of the errors committed by all No one little mistake is permitted to pass unnoticed It is explained and re explained until every one particularly the pupil who committed the error is absolutely sure it will never to happen again—at least not under Miss Christian's supervision

Averages Computed

At the end of the month the four test grades are averaged and the result is what the parents of Mark street pupils find written on the youngsters grade cards The same system of study and grading is in use in the fourth and sixth grades at Mark street Miss Christian said

During my brief visit at the Mark street school I followed the startling adventures of one Sinbad after his unfortunate meeting with the Old Man of the Sea in what was called Sinbad's Fifth Voyage The bell rang before the close of the second last paragraph but as I had expected pupils and teacher continued absorbed until the end of the voyage Woe unto the little longer that might lose her place in Miss Christian's class Woe unto the little lad that so forgets his fifth grade dignity!

Not that Miss Christian isn't understanding and sympathetic and not a pupil but who regards her as that greatly to be desired thing called a good teacher but as she declares over and over again school is business and daily meeting not to be mistaken for a social gathering or playtime period

Getting Understanding

Miss Christian doesn't seem to be annoyed by careful youngsters as she herself says they are beginning to grow up when they enter her classes

My hardest task in teaching comes at the first of the year Miss Christian says when the new youngsters fourth grade pupils with babies at heart come in to me to be made into full fledged fifth graders It's difficult to remember that they are still fourth grade pupils and can not be expected to have the ability of the fifth graders of the year before. But long before Christmas they become regular little men and women

One feels sure no little Mark street fifth grader ever passed without bowing all or more than a fifth grader should know

As the first month of every school year in Marion is generally given over to review work the fifth grade pupils yesterday spent their day diligently reviewing—a little geography, a little arithmetic preliminary to the fractions to be met next week a little writing a little music a little reading and quite a little spelling a study that seems to Miss Christian to be all important

Likes To Read

Yesterday was out the whole an interesting, and industrious day Little play and a great deal accomplished No youngster caused Miss Christian any trouble unless it was the little lad who sheepishly hung his head when Miss Christian quite truthfully commented that Invariably we have to quit on you Robert And to the visitor "The child needs constantly every spare minute in school all during recess and any reading matter that is available however difficult Whenever I want to punish Robert I send him out to play at recess time It's no punishment to that boy to be kept penned up in school with reading matter at hand

The little head raised proudly however when Miss Christian concluded But after all Robert will be a great man some day Such is her attitude towards all her pupils—conscientiously exacting but understanding and kind is well

The world is full of suckers. Some men buy gold bricks some marry for money

HOOVER MAINTAINS STRAW VOTE LEAD

Increases Margin Over Smith in Latest Reports from Marion

Hoover increased his lead over Smith in additional reports of the Columbus Dispatch straw vote in the city of Marion published yesterday. The ballots were cast here recently in connection with a statewide vote being taken by the Columbus newspaper.

Yesterday's reports gave the count of votes cast at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. office and in a street poll taken at the corner of Main and Center sts.

Cooper maintained his lead here over Davey in the race for governor, although by a margin considerably below that of Hoover in the presidential contest.

The result of the Steam Shovel Co. poll was as follows: men Hoover 80 Smith 30 Cooper 67 Davey 7 women Hoover 35 Smith 3 Cooper 10 Davey 3.

In the street poll the count stood: men Hoover 91 Smith 8 Cooper 31 Davey 8 women, Hoover 6 Smith 3 Cooper 6 Davey 1.

In the Steam Shovel Co. poll four men who voted for the Democratic nominee for president four years ago indicated that they will vote for Hoover this year and six ballots change from Republican to Democratic. One woman indicated a change from Democratic to Republican. In the street poll there were four changes from Democratic to Republican and one in the other direction.

Including returns previously published the straw vote here now stands: Hoover 816, Smith 731 Cooper 495 Davey 141.

Representatives of the Cincinnati Enquirer staff were here today taking a poll throughout the city in connection with that paper's statewide straw vote.

GOVERNOR SMITH SAYS "HELLO" TO DENVER

GIRL HITCH-HIKER FREED OF CHARGE

Loveda Boyle Not Held in Akron Salesman's Death from Shot Wound

Akron, Sept 26—Loveda Boyle 18, of Oil City, Pa., today was free of legal responsibility in the killing of Robert McCormick, 41, Akron automobile salesman. Late yesterday the Summit county grand jury in a partial report announced that the charges against the nineteen year old hitch-hiker divorcee had been no billed.

At the same time an indictment was returned against A. F. Ritchie, local manager of Sloan & Co. charging him with attempting Miss Boyle. He had not been arrested late yesterday but will probably be taken into custody today.

Miss Boyle shot McCormick while hitch-hiking her way from Okmulgee, Okla. where she obtained a divorce to her home in Oil City on Sept. 11. She was given a "lift" near here in an automobile occupied by McCormick and Ritchie.

Ritchie was driving the rented car and she sat between the two. McCormick, she says, made improper advances and refused to heed her warnings. She shot him with a pearl handled pistol which she carried, though she said she did not intend to hurt him seriously.

McCormick died the next day in a hospital and Miss Boyle, on learning of his death, immediately admitted the shooting.

When informed last night that the grand jury had refused to indict her either for second degree murder or for carrying concealed weapons, the girl was overcome by emotion and sobbed: "I'm so glad the grand jury understood."

She plans to return home with her parents either today or tomorrow. She expects to take up training as a nurse, the young woman said.

Marion Man Comes to Aid of Porto Rican Family Who Befriended Him 30 Years Ago

...years ago while Dr. James McMurray was in Porto Rico ...ool serving in the Spanish war he formed the acquaint...ance family which displayed ...ho reality and provided ...ent and conveniences to make a soldier more pleasant.

...of friendship thus formed ...ed through the years and ...im has had an opportunity ...e Porto Ricans for their ...

...ood opportunity came yester...re received a letter from Mrs. ...Lambogha of Guayama, P. R. ...e described the tremendous ...al persecutions through which ...her family and others in the ...passing as the result of the ...ating hurricane.

Sends Food

...an appeal for help but Dr. ...took it as such nevertheless ...warded a shipment of food ...gha home. He also plans ...cial request that the local chapter send supplies to Guayama which was headquarters of the Mars on soldiers during a large part of the stay in Porto Rico.

Dr. McMurray believes that it would be an appropriate way of the city expressing its appreciation for the kindness shown the Marion soldiers by residents of Guayama.

More than 20 years ago, a few years following the close of the Spanish American war, Guayama was devastated by an...ther storm which swept through the West Indies. At that time he also forwarded provisions to the Lambogha family.

The recent hurricane was more terrible and costly than the one which visited the island more than a score of years ago. Mrs. Lambogha states in her letter:

Describes Disaster

In graphic language she tells of "desolation, weeping, hunger, devastation, death everywhere.

"Schools, stores and homes are in ruins. Mrs. Lambogha's daughter, a grade school teacher, is deprived of employment and will continue so indefinitely. Food is extremely scarce and exorbitant in price.

"Famine will cause many deaths in about two weeks, is the ominous prediction of Mrs. Lambogha.

At the time the Marion soldiers were in Porto Rico Mrs. Lambogha was Miss Angelita Perez. Her mother served as interpreter in the hospital at Guayama, where Dr. McMurray was in command, and it was through her that he became acquainted with the family.

In 1923 Dr. McMurray visited his old friends at Guayama while attending the twenty-fifth annual reunion of his regiment in the Porto Rican town.

CROWDED SCHOOLS

WHILE to the casual observer the thing called "overcrowded conditions" in Marion Public schools is only a deplorable situation to be read about in the paper now and then, to school officials and taxpayers called to mind to the youngsters and teachers it seems to be an entirely different and very grave matter.

An illustration of the rapid growth in the school population in just one section of the city is found in a statement made this week by Miss Harriet Christian, principal of the Mark street school since it was built 37 years ago.

"I remember when I came to the Mark street school just after it was built in 1911 the huge eight room building, with only four small grades was considered somewhat of a town joke," Miss Christian recalled. Everyone laughed at the great big school accommodating so very few youngsters. While we had just four grades then we rapidly grew to eight and now on account of the increased number of smaller pupils we have only six with every available bit of room in use.

"From 125 pupils in 1911 we have grown day by day to an enrollment of between three and four hundred she concluded.

PARKING PUZZLE

JUST how the automobile parking problem will be solved here in the future when streets become inadequate for the rapidly increasing number of machines was a question which came in for mention at this week's meeting of city council.

"Even now there are times when space is found for cars only after hunting for a long time and then often the parking must be done far from the uptown business district.

"The time may come when the city will have to arrange for the use of its parks by autoists," Councilman R. I. Prettyman remarked, during the discussion. "Should that step ever be reached purchase of the three local parks will be more than justified. At the time the land was bought more than 20 years ago there were many citizens who decried the move as reckless extravagance, asserting that the city was buying enough park land for a place many times Marion's size."

The discussion took place while councilmen were talking over the West Center st. parking problem. Various comments were made on handling of the situation in the uptown district and several members of council declared that parking congestion is made more serious by proprietors and employes of stores using the streets to store their cars throughout the day.

The general opinion seemed to be that a one hour or two hour parking rule should be strictly enforced in the business district.

OUT OF GAS

MEN may pull just as many boners when it comes to driving a machine as the women do, maybe more but they keep their heads when they get in a tight pinch. Or at least they have that reputation.

Recently a Buick with a woman driver stalled on the car tracks at Center and Prospect sts. at the noon hour. She called the garage for a man to come and move her car and then stood around in a perfect state of nerves while traffic was jamming and pedestrians gathering.

If she had thought for half a second she could have had several of the men bystanders push her machine to the curb while she went for gasoline. But she didn't think and precious minutes were lost during the busiest hour of the morning, while she stood around and looked as if she'd burst into tears at the least sign of sympathy.

Two Marion Boys Set Mark for Modern Youth With Unusual Record of Industry

IF it is a fact that modern youth is frequently unduly irresponsible as some fault finders assert there are at least two outstanding exceptions in the city of Marion.

Ben and Hugh Carskadden, sons of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Carskadden, East Washington st., are the two who furnish proof that at least some of the present day young people are industrious and ambitious and headed somewhere besides the pursuit of pleasure. Ben is 17 years of age and Hugh 15.

They will what is believed to be a record for work in caring for lawns, one of their chief sources of revenue during the last summer. Together they mowed 17 lawns in the southern part of the city once a week and despite the magnitude of the task, did their work skillfully and thoroughly.

Have Fruitful Garden

But that was only a part of their summer's business activities. In addition they cleared a plot of ground on East Walnut st. measuring approximately 150 by 300 feet and converted it into a garden. For several years use of this land has been granted them by the owner, Hoke Pendleton, and the gardening has always yielded them a substantial profit. The returns this summer exceeded those of last year, they state.

This year, alone, $100 was cleared on their crop of peas and beans and will over $150 was made on other vegetables.

Most of the garden produce this year was sold to grocers but occasionally the youthful truck farmers sold to neighborhood housewives.

Ben, from whom this information was obtained in an interview, is a senior in Harding High school this year. He expects to enter college following completion of his high school course and plans to make architecture his life work.

Gets Training

Hugh has practically decided to be an optician and as a preparatory step is working nights in a local optical company office.

With summer and its lawns and gardens a matter of history Hugh is continuing to keep busy by driving a truck after school hours for a local firm.

During the latter part of the summer when he found a bit of spare time on his hands he worked

Why regular calls at this Sign save money...

Ten-minute monthly inspection at the Exide Service Station will mean longer and better service from your battery....

BATTERIES are like teeth—you will get longer and better service out of them if they are inspected regularly by an expert.

Give your battery only ten minutes a month at an Exide Service Station. That's all it needs. Just long enough to let the Exide Service man test the voltage, and see if you need distilled water, or grease on the terminals.

It is a trifling bit of work, but you have no idea what a difference it will make in the long run. Regular care by a battery expert will often add as much as 25 per cent to the life of a battery. And think what a saving that would mean to you!

Look for the Exide sign

You can always be sure of expert service at an Exide Station. No matter what make of battery you have, it will pay you to call regularly at the Exide sign.

Get into the habit of stopping there once a month. It takes so little time—just about long enough to smoke a cigarette—yet it will save real money in battery costs.

Now
Provided by the Packard Custom Eight

EVEN those long familiar with the finest Packards of the past, are unprepared for the greater riding and driving comfort, the sheer luxury of the new Packard Custom-Eight.

The characteristic beauty and distinction of the new Custom Eight were to be expected. Even Packard can but enhance the grace of established Packard lines—and it is no part of the Packard policy needlessly to depreciate the cars in the hands of present owners.

And, of course, no finer power-plant than the simple, rugged, easily accessible Packard Straight Eight motor—with its nine-bearing crankshaft—could be anticipated.

But beyond these expected qualities—and surpassing any recent achievement of the entire industry—Packard now offers a new and unique Shock Absorbing System. This combination of Packard and European inventions provides a riding comfort and safety which you must actually experience to appreciate.

Literally and without qualification the new Packard Shock Absorbing System makes the Packard the easiest riding car in the world—and also the safest. Won't you drive it, as our guest, and see for yourself?

We want you also to note the wide range of beautiful colors available in the new Custom Eight line—each with harmonizing upholstery whose deep cushions of new design and the last touch of luxury to these new creations.

Let us fairly appraise your present car. Its value should more than cover the down payment on the Packard Custom Eight. You may purchase from income on convenient payments if you prefer. Phone and we will send a car to your door.

The New Konjola Brought Health All Over System

Kidney and Liver Trouble Entirely Banished By Use of New Medicine, Says This Lady

MRS. R. F. RICHLRL

Konjola restored my health at a time when I thought my case was practically hopeless. This medicine cured a severe case of kidney and liver troubles," said Mrs. R. F. Richert, 2706 Mount Pearl Avenue, Akron, Ohio (near Akron).

"My complexion had taken on a sallow, bilious color due to the sluggish condition of my liver and I was forced to take a laxative all the time in order to get a bowel movement. Then my kidneys became affected and forced me to rise several times a night because of frequent bladder action. My feet and ankles were so swollen I had a hard time walking and life was simply filled with one misery after the other.

"But now I know my suffering is permanently ended because, since taking Konjola not a trace of my troubles have returned. The yellowish color of my complexion has given way to a healthy hue and I never have to take a laxative, because my bowels are in a normal condition. Konjola also ended every symptom of kidney trouble and I am feeling better than I have in years."

Konjola is different from any other medicine in this section. It contains twenty-two juices extracted from natural herbs which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to more healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that has been going on for years. At the same time many weak and rundown systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this vicinity have told of their experience with the new medical product until now Konjola is the most highly endorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

Konjola is strongly recommended here in Marion at Stump and Sons Pharmacy and is advertising will be all that is claimed for it through out this section.—Adv.

DRAMATIC STORY OF AMAZING ADVENTURE

BY WILLIAM ALMON WOLFF

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

It was new country to him this island of which he had heard but Irene knew every turn in it As they passed beyond the sprawling limits of the city me to old, settled villages and to places where the road ran right of the water or back in hill, she could name the every house

Islands wonderful she said I never wonder why we ever leave can find everything here It's e t wonderful in the world— e never Men can work in the l and through a bizarre 8 day and come in time for any sort of it—it gives people a chance live'

t just what Jim thinking of," Henshaw Put—re is some l point of view—yours—'

mile' She looked at him wade it as she laughed If I were a — Do you suppose I'd be content my business to others the way does? I adore him—but I am ter Did ever there he is' The re have always been money Hes our first ciller He's g did it—he makes just living son But—I'd never marry a his hom'

I'm glad that of you like that' Jim I suppose—you've seemed and far away from any idea of t— Hasn't he'

That's absurd' she said emphic one of the things I like best Ralph is that he's really a first business man Ralph has all the any sane person needs—it's with him He plays real estate father plays polo—or did poor tell mother and the doctor stopped it— She turned to look at him thoughtfully It really is a little hard Ralph the way father's offered you land' Poor Ralph—he's always to buy it You see the last of Delmars did a very shrewd thing he bought that tract—only he let know it of course' He really did—he hadn't the slightest idea that was so valuable—much too valuable for any club

I was a little cast down

But— he said I mean—look he—he knows it now, doesn't he' Isn't that take advantage of him—

Don't worry' It he doesn't know is not for want of having people tell him' Ralph's not the only one tried to buy it from him since I got and the road went through He knows it all right That he's a frightfully obstinate streak in I'm though could never know it just to meet him'

No—I wouldn't have thought he had said Jim

"Poor Ralph—he's simply amazed every bit of greed as other Irene Hello—I gather—of the W coming to it now'

They turned sharply off the state road into one of the minor dirt roads that every now and then connects it but they passed a cluster of rough farms with shacks for houses

Poor souls—you'll never them out with your development of course said Irene But the don't belong here, really—there's much better land for them not far away Now—see that tree that was struck by lightning that's just about on the line From now on dark land is on both sides of this road'

Jim's enthusiasm mounted with everything he saw Until at last he stopped the car and led him to the crest of a wooded hill From its summit she could point out practically the whole tract He could see the long waterfront with here and there a line of sandy beach—its full worth he knew the wealth in every grain of silver if not in gold He could see the way the land rolled away here in a low ridge there in a round hill like that on which they stood sinking into valleys and glen

It's better than I dared think it would be' he said

What's your plan she said

Swiftly he outlined it

Imagine a house here right on this hill he said 'Take 25 acres around it—then another house another bit of land And so on All different—an individual You could please every taste You could make each house seem the center of a wilderness—and yet have roads and telephone and electric light and water mains and every comfort You could sell a man what it takes an individual half a life time to learn to make—and make him glad to pay for getting it and pay high

'I'd start a village, out near the state road The sort of group of cottages Jim thinking of would need that shop, cottage for the men who'd be needed I'd develop that first—pleasant reasonably priced homes for such people I'd get them here by promising them work on the big job—it would be an inducement to them to buy and settle down Work both ways you see—

Irene nodded

That's shrewd, she said 'And it's sound, too I'm afraid Ralph won't be pleased that some one else thought of that idea

'Ralph—said Jim 'Your mind seems —you're thinking of him a lot this afternoon, aren't you

'After all—I'm engaged to him, you know' said Irene

I know, Irene—are you going to marry him'

I wish I knew' she said I don't I really don't

Then—why are you engaged to him'

I don't know that, either I—I was going to say I like him very much, but even now I'm not sure that I do and that would hurt him the very worst way if I did—if we said I'm sorry

I think I can understand she said —well I don't like him at all—

I think you're very slow that" She interrupted "He—he doesn't like you either

She stood still Jim But I was going to say—I don't like him at all and yet I can see a certain quality in him that would be valuable if one did like him He makes me feel as though really as though I was as completely wrapped up in him, as wood all like a big protective caveman

I think he is' Irene I think that's a perfectly fair thing to say of Ralph And—it is rather primitive His animal wholly natural passions that's pretty rare Of course, he's sometimes a frightful brute—that goes with the other thing

Jim nodded

Of course he said You—you know why I'll go into this deal now To make money she said promptly And—a little unwise because you don't like Ralph and you'd like to beat him at his own game"

No' he said I—I do want to be first in this game I've always wanted to be first in everything I've ever been in since I was a little fellow I—I want to succeed

I—I think I'm glad you're sure that' she said I—I'm not going to pretend I don't understand it

What's wrong with it

It's not to be sorry she cried Never be sorry for anything that's natural and decent

W—I wasn't sorry, he corrected I wanted to be sure sure of myself

Her eyebrows went up

Myself she said I think you don't realize how very transparent you are Jim You'd better—let you really meet a ruthless person who is after what he wants

I think that's more than likely, said Jim

Time we're more I'm—we must be getting back I'll drop you at your hotel'

They were silent on the way back Jim's mind was full of anxious thought, Irene lost in, was busy with the car Neither saw a figure lurking at the curb when they drew up by the hotel But as Jim stood watching Irene slip away, skillfully, through the traffic a heavy hand fell on his shoulder

I'll have a word with you Henshaw, I think' said Blake

His face was black with anger He lifted like menace incarnate

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Humorous Boyhood Adventure

By JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

TODAY was Wednesday and if we have ever had a vacation me and Brice have about forgot what it was like I pushed Jubilee out of bed this morning and then got up and let him in by the rope in his teeth and put on my short britches and went down to milk the dummed brutes Every time I look at a cow I think of Reeble—she is the one she is so funny kind of a girl One day me and her is the best of friends and the next day while I am spanking to Kountess or something she is pulling my shirttail out or putting her foot against my stomach and pushing me into over my head water I wish she could be a boy for only one day It would be the busiest day she ever put in She would wake up the next morning, wondering where she got the shantess over her eyes and the sole nose and puffed lips and she would bet her teeth loose She would find out that no one can monkey with me and get away with it

I was milking the old cow this morning when she came in with Kountess and Maggie and most of the bunch was there and she came over and said May I sit beside you Thomas Aries Yes I want to tell you something I though she meant she was going to sit on the floor by the side of me so I stool so I told her Sure So she stood about a minute whilst I kept on milking and then she said Push over then" and gave me a push that made me fall off of the stool and spill about half the milk I had got milked and when I go up I grabbed the pail and gave her the rest of the milk in her face and her eyes and mouth were full of it She said You wait and went to do a little curtsy like the girls have learned in school and her foot slipped and she done a split and she look surprized and said You wait again and then she got up and sat on the feed box and looked cross-eyed all the rest of the time I was doing the milking and she was still setting there when I went in to strain the milk and feed my face

I was watching the little kids learning to play foot and ball at recess and someone came up behind me and lifted the back of my hat and slid my hat forward over my face till the sweat band was under my nose and then gave it a jerk that almost pulled my nose up onto the top of my head and when I looked around someone was going around the corner of the school so I run out after whoever it was and fell over a foot that Reeble stuck out and almost busted my face so I didn't get to ast her what she wanted to tell me My father let me go to bed early

Democratic Nominee Well-Satisfied with His Visit to Montana

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
Marion Star Staff Writer

Billings, Mont., Enroute with Governor Smith to Minneapolis, Sept. 26—Governor Smith swung into the heart of the progressive northwest today, still hot on the trail of the LaFollette independent vote of 1924, which is necessary to his candidacy if it is to be successful west of the Mississippi river in November.

During the night, the Smith special left Montana and entered North Dakota, home of the old Non-Partisan league, and home also of the insurgency against Republican national administrations for the past two decades. His route today carried him through the center of the state, from east to west, along the line of the Northern Pacific and the wheat country on either side.

The governor left Montana after two days well satisfied. He entered North Dakota with hopes high.

"Montana looks all right to me," he told newspapermen as his train sped along. But ask Senator Wheeler here, he knows more about the state than I do."

Safe, Says Wheeler

Senator Wheeler, vice presidential candidate on the LaFollette ticket four years ago, declared with great positiveness:

"Montana is safe for Governor Smith."

The Montanan went further. He said he was convinced Governor Smith would carry North Dakota, Wisconsin and Minnesota six weeks hence, and possibly South Dakota.

The hope of the Smith managers for North Dakota are based primarily upon three factors. They are:

The great race that LaFolette ran in the state four years ago. He came within 5,000 votes of carrying the state against Coolidge, notwithstanding the Republican sweep of that year. The LaFollette ticket polled 80,922 votes, as against 91,931 for Coolidge, and 23,858 for Davis.

Gov. Walter Maddox, elected as lieutenant governor two years ago on a Republican-Non-Partisan league fusion ticket is now standing for reelection as a Democrat and is heartily supporting Governor Smith. Maddox succeeded to the governorship recently upon the death of Gov. A. G. Sorlie.

In St. Paul Next

The dissatisfaction of the wheat farmers of the state over the present market price for their principal commodity.

Against these favorable factors, however, the Smith managers have to contend with the influence of both North Dakota senators, Frazier and Nye. Although they are both Republican insurgents at Washington and lieutenants of LaFollette, they have announced their support of Hoover.

Tomorrow night in St. Paul, Governor Smith will deliver the fifth major speech of his western tour. And while no announcement has been made of the subject, it is understood that like most of the other western speeches it will be so framed as to attract the independent progressive vote of this section

PUTS HIS BROWN DERBY HAT AWAY

Billings, Mont.—Enroute with Governor Smith to Minneapolis—Sept. 26—Gov. Al Smith's famous brown derby, which was his constant head gear until he generously gave it to a woman in Billings, Mont., who wanted it the other day, probably will not reappear until Milwaukee is reached next Saturday.

Milwaukee is the last scheduled stop of the western trip.

Since giving away his famous Lowler, the Democratic nominee has been wearing a fawn-colored fedora.

"What about this brown derby?" the governor was asked today.

"I got one under cover," he said.

"Where are you going to bring it out?"

"Milwaukee," was the reply.

SECOND OF 3 AIR MUSKETEERS IS DEAD

Lieutenant Cornelius, Lindy's Friend, Falls 1,200 Feet; Other Flier Escapes

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 26—Death struck into the ranks of the "Three Musketeers" of the army air service again late yesterday and ended the brilliant career of Lieut. W. L. Cornelius, the second of the daring trio of army pursuit pilots to be killed within two weeks.

Lieutenant Cornelius fell to his death when his plane locked wings in mid-air with another craft piloted by Lieut. Roger V. Williams of Spokane at Rockwell Field here.

The collision came when the planes, flying in battle formation, were *executing a "ladderes circle" at an alti*tude of 1,200 feet.

Parachute Less Falls

Witnesses said Lieutenant Cornelius leaped from his disabled plane, but his parachute caught in the instrument board and he crashed to earth with the two big ships locked together. Williams saved his life with a parachute jump and escaped with cuts and minor bruises.

Lieut. J. J. Williams, leader of the little band of airmen whose daredevil exploits and camaraderie made them modern prototypes of "The Three Musketeers" of fiction, was killed only two weeks ago while heading his fellows in thrilling evolutions at the national air races at Los Angeles. Lieut. Irving A. Woodring is the one survivor of the trio.

Lindy Joins in Stunts

Following Williams' death Cornelius and Woodring carried on and Col Charles A. Lindbergh took their dead leader's place in the air show. The three thrilled the crowds with loops and other stunts.

The "Musketeers" were drawn from the cream of the army's pursuit pilots and were rivaled in daring only by the navy's three "Sea Hawks."

Cornelius was a native of Oklahoma and a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, with A. B. and B. S. degrees. He was 26. His parents life at Ardlee, Okla.

COOPER PLEDGES TO CUT INSURANCE TAX

Republican Also Would Eliminate Necessity for General Property Levy

Columbus, Sept. 26—A pledge by Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, Republican gubernatorial nominee, in support of the policy of seeking "elimination of the necessity for any general state property tax levy and to repeal the recently increased tax on insurance" is contained in a statement issued from Republican state headquarters here today.

Congressman Martin L. Davey, Kent, Democratic nominee for governor, is scheduled to speak today at the Erie county fair, Sandusky. Cooper and Secretary of Labor James J. Davis speak this afternoon at Mansfield and at Cleveland tonight, it was announced.

Speaker Nicholas Longworth, Cincinnati, of the national house of representatives, will fill speaking engagements in Ohio next month in support of the G. O. P. national and state tickets, it was stated at Republican state headquarters. Longworth is a candidate for reelection to congress.

ALL WRONG, NEGRO GETS STAY OF EXECUTION

Columbus, Sept. 26—Officials of Ohio penitentiary today declared that the published announcement that John Bradshaw, *local negro, would be elec*trocuted tonight at the big state prison was incorrect. These officials stated that the Franklin county appellate court last July granted Bradshaw an indefinite stay of execution, pending disposition of the condemned prisoner's appeal for a reversal of the decree of death. Bradshaw was convicted of murdering aNue Young, also colored, here on Feb. 25, last. Bradshaw's appeal still is pending, it was stated.

C. O. P. National Committee Adopts "Hands Off" Policy for President

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
Marion Star Staff Writer

Washington, Sept. 26—The Republican national committee has adopted a "hands off" policy, for the present, toward Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt and her single-handed prohibition crusade against the candidacy of Gov Alfred E. Smith.

This became known today at Herbert Hoover's headquarters as the Republican northern committee continued to work upon his Elizabethton, Tenn., speech. It was learned too, that the Hoover advisers have split upon the question of curbing Mrs. Willebrandt or giving her a free rein in the campaign.

Hoover personally has declared himself opposed to "personalities" in the campaign and frequently has announced himself in favor of conducting an affirmative campaign, based *only upon the record, issues and poli*cies of the Republican party. Mrs. Willebrandt has gone beyond this limitation but the Hoover advisers have urged the nominee to let her case be handled by the national committee, which is conducting his campaign. He has decided to follow this advice, it was said.

One group of the Hoover managers, meanwhile, believing that her utterances will hurt his candidacy, have demanded that she be silenced. Others, believing that she will solidify the dry vote of both parties behind Hoover's candidacy, want to give her a free rein.

Attitude Revealed

The public attitude of Hoover leaders toward Mrs. Willebrandt was well illustrated by Chairman Work in an interview given at Hoover headquarters, following a conference with the Republican nominee.

"What's the news today?" Work asked, in opening the interview.

"How about Mrs. Willebrandt?" one reporter asked. "She's always news. What have you to say about her speeches?"

"I have nothing to say about them or her," replied the chairman.

"What is her status?"

"She is an official of the department of justice," replied Work. "Sometimes she goes out on her own hook and sometimes the Chicago speakers bureau sends her out. She's a sort of free lance."

"Does Walter Newton have charge of her speaking dates?"

"Yes, when she speaks for the committee."

Hasn't Read Them

"Do you approve of her speeches against Smith?"

"Do you mean the ones she has made or the ones she is going to make?"

"The ones she made," the reporter explained.

"Oh, I haven't read them," Work declared. "So I couldn't answer that question."

"Are her traveling expenses paid by the national committee?"

"I don't know. Newton will have to answer that."

"Is it fair to assume that they are paid?"

"No, because we have more voluntary speakers than paid speakers."

"Well," said one correspondent, "you will find her speeches interesting reading, when you get around to them."

"That will have to be after the campaign is ended," concluded Work.

Encouraging Reports

Hoover meanwhile received encouraging reports from Wisconsin, one of the "wet" strongholds that Smith's supporters have claimed. Walter J. Kohler, the Republican nominee for governor, told him the state was safe for the Republican ticket, if the organization there performed its duty in getting out the vote.

A statement from national headquarters said: "The Democratic effort to make prohibition the main issue in Wisconsin is failing completely, even in Milwaukee, as a result of Smith's Omaha speech, where he stated 'the president can do nothing about liquor.'"

WOMEN'S GOLF HAS NO JONES, PLAY INDICATES

Hot Springs, Va., Sept. 26—Women's golf has no Bobby Jones reducing it almost to a scientific certainty, instead it has all the fascinating traits that have made woman kind a puzzle since the beginning of time. Steadiness and consistency of the play in the women's golf championship, which goes into its second match round today, have been exemplified only by Maureen Orcutt, the medalist, whose play has been as precise as machine work. But although Miss Orcutt has been just about as certain in the first two days as Bobby Jones ever was the comparison ends there because there's no telling at all what she may do today or tomorrow.

If we must be cynical, let us be cynical about our misfortunes, not our joys.

WALSH BELIEVES CARDS WILL WIN

15-INNING WIN OVER BROOKLYN IS DECIDING GAME FOR RED BIRDS

Says Giants Will Face Tough Going Against Cubs Thursday

BY DAVID J WALSH

NEW YORK Sept 26—No matter which way the cat jumps now and the St Louis Cardinals should be the last to attempt calling the turn after being forced to go 15 innings yesterday to protect their one game lead the post mortem addicts may be able to see that the better club won the pennant They will say better but they will mean gamer From today until the National league's official closing on Sunday the two clubs finish between the Cards here and Giants will be strictly a test of the traditional query 'Who has it meaning the old 'Author Lee'

The status of the pair in the club standings is mere mathematics The Cards today are one game ahead will five to play, including the season's finale with the Dodgers this afternoon If they take this one in stride while the Giants are idle they will increase their lead to 1½ games with only four to play If they blow it their lead will be a half game and the Giants might be able to wipe that out altogether in their doubleheader with the Cubs to morrow while the Cards are playing a single game with the Braves

Another Inning Impossible

There could be no doubt about the gameness of an outfit that, having recorded ends win in nine innings simply refuse to win in the fifteenth and there upon does so They couldn't have gone another inning, even at 3 bases full yesterday and a tie would have meant the lead reduced to a half game with anything possible in the double header that would have been necessary today

Personally, I think they just about won the pennant yesterday and if this proves to be the case there's nothing for it but to order another pedestal for the old court house steps They will need it for a little man with a big left arm, Shirley by name and downright gifted by nature On Thursday he pitched the Cards to their only decision over the Giants On Saturday he relieved Mitchell in the fifth and held the game locked out from under him Yesterday he went in there out of turn and pitched 15 winning innings He isn't as youthful as of yore but his record is 20 useful innings in the last five days

I think the Cardinals won the pennant yesterday simply because it doesn't seem possible that the Giants' aren't riding full on upon a stopper They have been drawing every decision finer that a pessimist thread which indicates two things

1—The Giants are a game ball club

2—They are getting the breaks

They will need both against the kind of pitching the Cubs will show them starting tomorrow, and somehow one can't expect too much to come to a club that has fought its fate the way the Giants have been forced to do since last Thursday In brief the breaks are likely to start going against any club that needs them so badly You can't take the virtue of gameness away from them, however

"Near Professionalism" Charges Passed On To Presidents For Final Settlement

COLUMBUS Sept 26 Charges of near professionalism against players in the Ohio league of the Pennsylvania and West Virginia circuit were referred to the presidents of the various associations to be followed by immediate hearings of the evidence and full representatives of the association here Tuesday night

The decision of passing the buck to the presidents was reached after a conference between Secretary Hamilton of the Ohio league and Commissioner Martin of the Pennsylvania-Ohio-New York league

The charges were made by Manager Ed Cihlar of the Akron team and were based on the fact that several players on the Silk Mill team participated in the game on Sunday afternoon at the Fairgrounds Saturday afternoon

This contest should prove interesting to followers of the Red and Black as two of the Hardin county players on the Silk Mill team are members of the Akron team

Cihlar stated that he would not make any charges against the players but that he would ask the league to investigate the case

Reports of the scholarship awards and the petitions given by the Ohio Wesleyan were read at the meeting, by Ford were made by their coaches at the meeting The reports are said to have revealed Bird's charges as false statements Birdsell refused to talk to the press but it was pointed out by those present that no action would be taken by the league on the charges, in so far as they pertained to students of Akron Ability

WEST JEFFERSON IS ADMITTED TO HEART OF OHIO GRID LOOP

Three League Games Slated for This Week, Strength Unknown

WEST JEFFERSON has been admitted to the Heart of Ohio football league It was learned today when Supt H D Manchee of Dalton secretary treasurer of the league, notified Lee C O Callahan Woodstock, that six of the members of the league had voted to admit the Madison county school

This puts on a list of nine members with a representative in Marion Hardin, Logan and Union counties and two representatives in Madison and three in Champaign county

But little is known of the comparative strength of the teams in the league as only two games have been played

Dalton defeated Richmond 6-0 at Richmond last week and Woodstock defeated Locust 80 at Locust two weeks ago

Dalton showed plenty of strength in a non league game by defeating Waynesfield at Dalton, 31-0

Mechanicsburg looks like a possible contender this year with a chance also to Solon and Plain City

Locust Richmond and West Jefferson are wide open, enough to shatter some one else's championship hopes, are not looked upon as serious contenders themselves

This week will see more of the league teams take their action Richwood plays Woodstock at Woodstock and Dalton plays at Kingscreek and Plain City is host to the lucky member of the league West Jefferson

The other members will take on non league schools, Dalton playing North Lewisburg at North Lewisburg, and Locust at Ada

Fifteen college football games in Ohio, 25 Ohio squads are on the boards for settlement Saturday Two of them will be played out of the state

What's what in the Ohio conference and the Buckeye Athletic association will be partially told at a Ohio Wesleyan conference Marietta college at Delaware and Ashland hops over into Wayne county to bump skulls with Wooster

The Bishops this year are credited with having a mean outfit of pigskin experts while the Ohio river boys are more or less of a quantity equal to X

While Ashland lost a CB defeat at the hands of Slippery Rock (Pa) normal last week the showing was anything but sad The Wooster-Ashland tilt is another of the contests with a Q U D, tag attached

Capital vs Baldwin Wallace Kenyon vs Kent and Oberlin vs Heidelberg are the other conference games that will count in the season's final footings

CINCINNATI—St Xaviers Musketeers will have a real job on their hands when they buck up against Transylvania here Saturday Transylvania beat Centre college last Saturday 60 and boast of a real team this year To date the Musketeers have been fortunate in avoiding injuries and health difficulties

MARIETTA — Twenty-six candidates the largest squad to report for varsity football practice since Marietta moved into Ohio conference circles are pointing toward the Ohio Wesleyan game Saturday and Coach Hayes is not satisfied providing injuries do not keep any men on the bench Besides seven lettermen there are some promising youngsters showing up well Those included Cupliner Markley Weber Wittekind Swenson Mountaine and Hall

OBERLIN Lettering for the opening game of the season here Saturday against U Toledo, Oberlin college guard to have been put through some strenuous scrimmage sessions so far this week The lineup has not been chosen as yet but many new faces are expected to appear in the roll call

WOOSTER—Injuries and other ailments have played havoc with the Wooster college warriors so far this season and having only two more days of practice before the game here Saturday with Ashland Coaches Dietrich and Reynolds are going to go on the bench for Wooster's initial contest Capt Paul Snyder three all Ohio guard is on the sick lines with an infected foot, and Dolph Young is out with a dislocated shoulder Other casualties include sore muscles and pulled ankles

NEW CONCORD—Confronted with the proposition of building up a good team capable of meeting the best in the state, Coach Bill Lang head master at Muskingum college is promising his proteges for one of the most gruelling schedules ever met by the Black and Magenta Although the Muskies team has suffered considerably by graduation all Ohio fans do not on this little college to send off the pigskin machine to post even as fair an aggregation this season

ILIAM—Depending on speed rather than on weight Coach Miles D Evans of Hiram college is speeding a great deal of time on his grid aspirants in preparation for the seven Ohio conference games scheduled on the stiff program for Hiram gladiators for some time And the opening game with Wooster Oct 6 is considered the stiffest of them all

KENT—Old fashioned fight seems to be the battle cry from Stadelhofer's grid squad this year and if you could look through the keyhole on a practice session it is apparent that you would see plenty of this old pep It is for this reason Coach Dave Allen is hopeful for a successful season

GALION WILL PROVIDE LEAGUE OPPOSITION FOR HARDING ELEVEN

Red and Black To Start Final Practice Sessions for Saturday

BY EARL R McELROY
Sports Editor, The Star

WITH its regular squad showing up fairly strong and the reserves showing a week the Harding high school football team will begin the final practice sessions on the Silk Mill field in preparation for the opening of the season at the fairgrounds Saturday afternoon

This contest should prove interesting to followers of the Red and Black as two of the Harding squad this season and their opposition

This will be the first appearance of the Harding squad this season and their opposition Galion, will provide them with league opposition

Although Harding should win this game, it should be tough enough to prevent Coach Dwyer from testing out the strength of his reserves under fire

In a hard scrimmage last night Coaches Dwyer and Compton failed to unearth anything startling in the way of new material The regulars were able to score almost at will against the reserves A large number of substitutions were made during the practice

To date the Red and Black has been fortunate as far as injuries go Although Pete Cole was hurt last night his injuries are not considered serious enough to keep him out of the initial contest

The starting lineups for the opener has not yet been decided upon by the local coaches Showings made during the balance of the week will go far in determining the starters against Galion

Light workouts will be on the training menu for the rest of the week Scrimmages will be held with Coach Bolyer taking no chances of playing any of his men on the hospital list for Saturday's fray

READY FOR HARDING

Galion Anticipating Hard Battle In Contest Saturday

Galion Sept 26 — Galion High's Orangemen were put through another stiff practice session last night and at least two more intensive sessions will be held before the clash with Harding High at Marion Saturday Although the showing made when the locals defeated Crestline 13-0 in the opener last week-end was fairly good for early season work Coach Dave Eaton is by no means satisfied with his gridders

Special time is being taken on the line with Coach L McClintock giving the linemen unusually hard work cuts in preparation for the first league tilt Although the team this season will be the heaviest in years the players lack experience and few predict Bears are being made in the Galion camp Zinn who ticks best for both touchdowns and in the Crestline game, is expected to do most of the ball toting in the Harding encounter and Schupp will be in charge at quarterback

The probable starting lineup will include Coal Zobel Bell, Smith Stout Stutzman Mollenkopf Burns Scarborough Case Tust, Cooper Wilson and Upson Harvey Smith and Edward Hochstra, who have been out with injuries for the past week is expected to be able to serve at least in the coming contest

A'S FACE HOPELESS TASK TO WIN FLAG FROM YANKEE TEAM

New York Can Cinch Pennant with Three Victories in Five Starts

BY IRVIN COBLENTZ

NEW YORK Sept 26—The Athletics meeting New York in two games for the determining, if certainly that Yankees cup of their four game engagement will not end the American league pennant fight The Yankees will still have to win three of the five games with Detroit And even should the Yanks win but two out of five the Mackmen must win four straight to beat out the New Yorkers

Both teams are idle today and the A's will be a welcome one set back to the champions Ruth and Lazzeri are in bad shape and the batting corps with the exception of old Tom Zachary is shaky The veteran southpaw, who was considered good enough to hang on at Washington turned in his third victory in five starts by subduing Chicago yesterday, 10 to 1

By W. S. Cousins

...t. 26—Despite the de... call loan rate to 6½ per ...suspicuous strength of a ... known motor car and ... the market as a whole ...progress today. Violent ... high-priced industrial ... stocks failed to attract ... much buying of the general list, and it was generally believed that the pools and big professionals had not made a good job of their strenuous efforts at distributing stocks today.

By far the best market records were made by half-a-dozen or more of the motor stocks, the popularity of which has not waned in the face of sensational price gains since the first of the month. With General Motors in the position of aggressive leadership, new gains of from one to three points were scored for Hupp, Graham-Paige, Studebaker, Chrysler, Hudson, Packard, while a few low-priced shares like Willys Overland and Yellow Truck were churned around at a rapid pace without any apparent destination.

It was also a good day for the theatrical and motion-picture stocks, most of which responded promptly to the reports of brilliant success in the fall openings of new plays and talking pictures. Warner Brothers sold up about four points on reports of further acquisitions of the stock of other picture producers. Stanley company advanced in aggressive buying and Keith Albee was in active demand around 31.

TODAY'S REVIEW OF YESTERDAY'S GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 26—Grains closed rather irregularly yesterday, but lower for most of the futures, with wheat 1½c under the previous close. The trade was intensely bearish. Both corn and rye showed plenty of resistance to downward pressure and gave an excellent account of themselves.

At the end wheat was down 1¾, corn was ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, oats were ⅝ to ⅞ lower and rye was 1¾ lower to 1⅜ higher.

The bear side was the only side that looked good to most pit traders from the start. Wheat eased away shortly after the opening, but the market gave no suggestion of any such weakness as bears professed to see in its action.

Late in the session, when the December future got down around 117, a good class of buying appeared to be absorbing all offerings. The market became very dull and worked up and down from that level within half a cent range.

It seemed quite possible that the big interest which bought wheat lower before the big bulge last Friday might have taken profits at the top of the uptown and were now buying back wheat again.

Sells gi Wheat Dangerous

Nothing in the market seemed to indicate any decided shift of the market situation back to the bearish condition that existed some weeks ago and up until last week. Selling wheat on breaks from the present level is apt to prove costly eventually.

Today on any decline early the market may get support that will lift it upward before the session is over. Weakness at Liverpool and Winnipeg yesterday had a good deal of influence here.

Wheat this year is excellent and it will be wanted. It will stand long time storage and is high enough in quality to be valuable for mixing with low grade wheat of a subsequent poor crop. Such wheat can often be carried over for a year or two to great advantage when it can be picked up as cheap as it is selling now.

There is no reason for changing the opinion expressed here before the big bulge last week—that wheat will sell much higher between now and election day.

Rye shows great inherent strength The September future is in a very strong position because of the small stock of rye here. The other futures look to me like an excellent purchase at around the present level.

Rye Crop Short

There seems to be no question but that the world's crop will be very short this year. That should mean a high price for rye later this year and next Spring.

Another thing it will mean is the demand for a good deal of surplus wheat to make up for the loss in rye.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

First shipments of vegetables from distant points arrived here late yesterday and were in the retail markets this morning. Celery, leaf lettuce, endive, and radishes were received by the wholesalers here. Prices on the shipped in products remained the same as on the home grown except endive, which increased to 25 cents a pound from 20 cents.

Two new arrivals reached the city this morning. Hubbard squashes selling at six cents a pound made their first appearance of the season as did New York peaches at a price of $2.50.

Several changes in prices on home-grown vegetables were recorded in the retail markets. Egg plants now sell at 15 cents to 25 cents each, Cucumbers went up to three for 15 cents. Wax beans shifted upwards to 15 cents a pound. Pumpkins also jumped to 15, 25 and 30 cents each.

Citrus fruit prices remained the same although the price of bananas dropped to 10 cents a pound.
